Washington in St. Louis.
Baltimore in Chicago.

Cleveland, May 14.—Even with Rusie's uniform on the bench the Giants could not keep ahead of the wiggling Spiders. A lead of five runs in the middle of the trouble looks like a sure thing, but you can never tell when the pent-up athletes from New York will explode. The upheaval occurred in the sixth round to-day, and it nearly shook the toga of the late-lamented Rusie from the lanky form of Mr. Campbell. That young man sat on the bench, but the concussion affected him fully as much as it did the unhappy Clarke in the box.

Something seems to go wrong every time "Dad" hooks up. Either the team cannot hit, or the feet and pins of the young men fall them at critical stages. When these outbursts take place the gentleman from Erie loses his temper and the swats pile up. The game was full of noise, decimations, heartburnings, rain and fines.

At the opening of the seventh, with the score tied, a dash of rain drove all hands to shelter for twenty minutes. Then the Spiders crawled out of their damp holes and batted in a victory, mostly with nice, fat flies.

In the earlier epochs the Spiders reviled Umpire Lynch for a couple of his rulings in favor of the Giants. Brief remarks by Messrs. McKean and O'Connor cost the orators respectively $15 and $10, and it is said he has an expert accountant in the grand stand to keep track of the fines.

Poor old Cy Young, he of bovine tendencies, was bounced off the rubber in the fifth after eleven hits had been wrenched from his repository. Irwin's base hit makers pounded in four men in the second with a string of six singles and a close decision at second base. Doubles by Wilson and Van Halten in the fourth landed another run. The first two men up in the next half led off with singles.

Young to his stall and trotted out a youth named Wallace. After that things were different. Not a Spider tallied until the fifth, when Fuller's fumble gave Zimmer a start. O'Connor and Hinkle followed with singles. In the next, with one out, Clarke and Wilson locked horns on a bunt hit by Childs. Fuller missed Tebeau's grounder and then came two singles, a pair of doubles and a wild throw by G. Davis that resulted in five runs.

Van Halten tied the score in the sixth on his triple and Burdette must. The rain then had a turn. After the shower and with a wet ball the Spiders made all kinds of hits. There were a number of pretty plays on both sides. G. Davis made some phenomenal stops and Mr. Childs was also on the spectacular order. The attendance was small, but vociferous.

Last night a large glass globe in the room occupied by Campbell, Seymour and Dabney fell from the chandelier and was shattered to fragments. This morning an ingenious chambermaid reported at the office that one of the New York players had broken the arm. Score:

At Louisville.
Louisville, Ky., May 14.—Louisville won from Philadelphia to-day by superior playing in every way. The holding on both sides was sharp and at times phenomenal until the seventh inning, when the Phillies went to pieces. Hit allowed no more than one hit in any one inning except the ninth. Several of his bases on balls were given by instructions, and he did so well that he hit again on Saturday. He has wide curves and is the coolest of Louisville's pitchers. The score:

LOUISVILLE..... 11
PHILADELPHIA..... 5

At Chicago.
Chicago, May 14.—Baltimore had five runs to its credit against four for Chicago, and it was the last half of the ninth with Everett on first base. Dahlen hit for a clean two-bagger, bringing in Everett and tying the score. An argument was made between the captains that if the score was tied in the ninth, and there were runs in the tenth, the game should be played over the next day. So Chicago and Baltimore will meet to-morrow to settle who is to have the game. Score:
CHICAGO..... 4
BALTIMORE..... 5
